PATRIOTIC MEETING HELD AT SHIPYARD ELOQUENT SPEECHES MADE TO THE MEN

Many Hundreds of Workmen Cheer Speakers as They Tell Why the United States Must Speed Up the Building of Ships to Carry Our Soldiers and Food Across the Seas.

If there is any one who thinks the men employed at the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation's yards in this city are not alive to the needs of the work in which they are engaged, they should have been present at the patriotic meeting held at the shipyard today at 12 o'clock and heard them cheer the speakers who addressed them. It was most gratifying to see the close attention which the men paid and to listen to the hearty cheers given by them to the telling arguments presented.

The speakers were Lieut. Col. I. Thord Grey, late commander of the British Fusileers, who has seen twenty-one years of service in the British army; Hon. Crawford Vaughan, Premier of South Australia, and Mr. Colin H. Livingston, of Washington, president of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation.

Vice President B. W. Morse presided and introduced the speakers. Before announcing the first speaker Mr. Morse took occasion to state that a decision had been made in regard to the selection of a slogan for the big sign which his company has erected near the shipyard. It was suggested by Mrs. I. F. Fornshill, of 723 Queen street. It is: "More tons, less Huns." She will get $10 for the suggestion.

Lieut. Col. Grey was then presented to the big audience. He spoke very earnestly, reciting many of his experiences while in the war against Germany and told the men that what the Huns had done to the young girls in Belgium and France would be done to their mothers and sisters if they are not stopped, as it would be only a question of time when they would make war against America if they are not beaten. He made a strong plea for the men to put forth every effort to get the ships ready, that food and men were sorely needed in England and France and that the need was growing daily. His recital of the horrible crimes which the German soldiers had committed against young girls, women and old men, which he had known of personally, was enough to make a person's blood boil with rage. He told of Belgium women who had been burned with red hot irons, of men's eyes that had been poked out and of forty-one of the soldiers in his regiment who had been brutally killed after being taken prisoners and were found by his company later. Many other instances were related to show the barbarianism of the of the Germans and in closing he said, "that is what you in America may expect if the Huns ever get over here."

Hon. Crawford Vaughan followed Col. Grey. He addressed the men as fellow democrats, which put him in sympathy with his audience immediately. He said that although he was ten thousand miles from home that since he had been in America he felt that he was "at home," because his country had adopted a constitution like the United States and he found the Americans to be like brothers. He referred to Alexandria as having been the home of George Washington—the father of freedom—as he expressed it and that he knew that America would never surrender the flag to the Huns. His speech from the opening to the close was most inspiring, and he was frequently interrupted by cheers from the men, which were given with a will.

President Colin H. Livingston, of the shipbuilding company, who had arrived after the meeting opened, was next introduced and made a short address, which was greeted with rousing applause. He referred to the fact that only sixty days ago the ground on which the buildings were being erected was only a vacant field, and that within the next thirty days or so a start would be made in the building of the ships. He urged the men to be faithful in doing their duty and from the response given him there can be no doubt what they will.

Music was furnished by the Indian Guard Band. The "Star Spangled Banner" was played at the close of the speaking after which the meeting adjourned.

MUST PAY INCOME TAX.

One Private Pays on $30,000, While Five and an Officer Pay on $25,000 Each.

Camp Lee, April 3.—More than 4,000 members of the National Army, officers and enlisted men, now stationed at Camp Lee filed income tax reports either through the internal revenue collectors of their home districts or through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance at the camp. Of this number the large percentage who will contribute to wage the war are enlisted men. The largest individual contributor to the cause is a West Virginia private, a member of the artillery brigade, whose report shows that last year his net income was $30,000. On this amount he will pay to the government a tax of $2,000. There were six men in the division who earned more than $20,000 last year, and all save one is now serving his country as an enlisted man.

The smallest tax to be paid is on an income of 1,100, which nets the government 52 cents. The average income of those paying the tax was in excess of $1,500 for single men and $2,500 for the married men. The law affected every one alike. The commanding general paid his tax as well as the private in the rear ranks. The government will collect approximately $50,000 from the members of this command.

German Gun Bursts.

Paris, April 3.—Residents of Paris today greeted with joy an official announcement that one of the German guns that had been bombarding this city had burst, killing five men.

RATIFIES PROHIBITION.

Massachusetts Swings Into Line With States Supporting Federal Prohibition—Vote Two to One.

Boston, April 3. — Massachusetts swung into line with the states supporting the Federal prohibition movement when the senate yesterday ratified the prohibition amendment by a roll-call vote of 27 to 12. Similar indorsement was voted a week ago by the house, 145 to 91.

By this action Massachusetts becomes the first of the northeastern tates to ratify the amendment and the eleventh in the entire country. The states that had previously ratified it are Mississippi, Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, North Dakota, Maryland, Montana, Texas, Delaware and South Dakota. To carry the amendment, twenty-five other states must vote in its favor.

CANADIAN PLANT BURNS.

Thor Iron Works at Toronto Destroyed by Flames of Undetermined Origin.

Toronto, April 3.—The entire plant of the Thor Iron Works, on the water front at the foot of Bathurst street, was destroyed by fire last night. The company has been engaged almost exclusively in shipbuilding since the outbreak of the war. A large vessel, almost ready to launch, which was on the runways, was saved by the firemen.

Two hundred employes who were at work in the plant when the fire broke out, experienced difficulty in escaping, but so far as known, no lives were lost. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

Mt. Vernon Chapter.

The regular convocation of Mt. Vernon Royal Arch Chapter will be held in the Masonic Temple next Friday evening, April 5th, at 7:30 o'clock. The M. M. and P. M. degrees will be conferred. You are earnestly and cordially invited to be present.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

The regular monthly meeting of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Company will be held tonight.

Mr. Joseph Keating, representing the War Department Commission on Training Camp Activities, arrived in the city yesterday and will be located here permanently for a time, at least, in order to assist the local committee, of which Judge Louis C. Barley is chairman, in opening reading and recreation rooms for the use of the soldiers who may visit Alexandria. The work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

At the monthly meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association held yesterday afternoon at 320 South St. Asaph street, the Kindergartner reported a very interesting mothers meeting and also having made many visits during the month. The treasury being depleted an entertainment is being planned to raise funds for next months' expenses. The following contributions are gratefully acknowledged: Mrs. William Campbell, $2; Mr. Paul Hulfish, Mr. David Hulfish, Mr. William A. Moore, Jr., Mrs. Harry B. Caton, Mrs. W. D. Wood, Mrs. J. Stewart Jamieson, $1 each.

The marriage of Miss Mary Windsor Snowden, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Snowden, to Mr. David Newton Rust, Jr., took place at 11 o'clock this morning at the residence of the bride's uncle and aunt, the Rev. Dr. Samuel A. Wallis and Mrs. Wallis, on Seminary Hill, and the ceremony was performed by Dr. Wallis. The bride was attired in a dark blue travelling suit with black straw hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of lillies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Rust had as his best man his brother, Dr. Thomas L. Rust, of Washington. Directly after the ceremony, at which only the families and relatives were present, Mr. and Mrs. Rust left on a wedding trip.

The revival at the Second Baptist church continues with unabated interest. Last night was said by many to be one of the best meetings. The crowd was not so large but the number signifying their purpose to lead a better life was perhaps the largest yet. The Berge Sisters sang their duets and solos with their usual inspiration and their hold on the people is growing day by day. They have become much beloved by the congregation. The people sing the popular gospel songs with evident enjoyment and the chorus choir is doing excellent work. All are sorry as the time draws near for the closing service on Friday night. The Rev. Mr. Lloyd spoke last night from the text "Wherefore, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision." Everybody is cordially welcome to these meetings.

The house on the north side of King street, near Spring Park, was sold by Charles F. Baggett to D. A. Campbell, instead of D. A. Cameron, as reported yesterday.

The Western High school baseball team from Washington yesterday defeated the Alexandria High school nine on the grounds in this city by the score of nine to three.

The Senior class of the Alexandria High School will give a play, "The Elopement of Ellen," Friday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium. The pupils are now busy selling tickets to the play and hope to make quite a success of the affair both financially and artistically.

What is known as Batter[illegible]gers Hill, near the river front in the southwestern part of the city, is taking its departure as fast as a big steam shovel can load the dirt into carts which are carrying it away. The work is being done by the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation which is using the dirt for filling in purposes.

Judge Louis C. Barley is moving his law offices from 117 North Fairfax street, where they have been located for many years, to the rooms adjoining the Corporation and Circuit Court rooms, on the second floor of the City building on North Fairfax street. Attorney Frederick P. Russell, who occupies offices with Judge Barley, is also moving to the new location. The rooms in which Judge Barley's offices will be located were assigned to him for his use some time ago but he had not considered it advisable to occupy them until now. They are directly over the office of Clerk Nevell Greenaway.

Plans are practically completed for the reception and dance tomorrow evening in the auditorium of the Elks' Home by the Refreshment Corps of the Red Cross for the members of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation, officers from Camp Humphreys and other new residents of the city. The informal reception will be from eight to nine o'clock, followed by dancing until a late hour. About two hundred invitations have been issued and a most enjoyable event is anticipated. A number of the members of the corps will act as hostesses and among the gentlemen who have been asked to compose the floor committee are Mr. Robert S. Jones, Judge J. K. M. Norton, Mr. C. S. T. Burke, Mr. David J. Howell, Mr. Albert Doyle Brockett, Dr. Hugh McGuire, Mr. Robert L. Payne, Mr. Carroll Pierce, Mr. Leopold Ruben, Mr. C. William Wattles, Mr. Henry S. Wattles, Mr. George Washington Lewis, Mr. Emmett C. Dunn, Dr. Edward A. Gorman, Mr. Charles T. Nicholson, Mr. Julian Y. Williams, Mr. Gardner L. Boothe, Mr. Leo P. Harlow and Judge Louis C. Barley.

An offer to purchase the building owned by the Eagles lodge of this city will be considered at the meeting to be held tonight by that body which will meet at 8 o'clock.

There were two cases on the docket of the Police Court this morning. The defendants were drivers of auto trucks who had been found operating the same without lights. They forfeited $1 each by failing to appear in court.

The Rosemont Branch of the American Red Cross held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. William E. Swan, at her home in Walnut street. The election of officers was not held as it was decided to hold officers until November when the Alexandria Chapter, of which this is a branch, will elect its officers. Mrs. H. C. Linn was chosen supervisor of the work.

Alexandria music lovers who will hear the Paulist boy choir at the Richmond theater next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock little realize how complicated are the arrangements necessary for the successful transporting of the hundred boys, who make up the choir, about the country. Each youngster is not only a good singer, but full of life, and they keep their manager's hands full in looking after them to see that they are properly gowned and in their places at the opening of each concert.

The regular meeting of the Refreshment Corps of the Red Cross was held last night. The corps was addressed by Major Lanahan, of Camp Humphreys, and Mr. Joseph Keating, representative of the War Department Commission on training camp activities. The captain, Miss Rose MacDonald, announced that on the authority of Colonel Parks the men from Camp Humphreys who are in town on pass on Saturday night will be served breakfast every Sunday morning in the Westminster building, by the members of the Refreshment Corps, under the management of Miss Cora Coehran. One hundred beds have been placed in St. Paul's church parish hall for the soldiers. A truck train in charge of sixty-five men arrived in the city yesterday evening from Detroit, Michigan, to Camp Humphreys and the men were served supper last night and breakfast and lunch today by the members of the Refreshment Corps in the Westminster building. These ladies are surely "doing their bit" in giving their time to this work of taking care of the soldiers and looking after their comfort when in the city, especially at this time when Alexandria is so crowded and room and board is at a premium. The sixty-five men will leave this afternoon for Camp Green, North Carolina, after turning over the trucks to the Quartermaster's department at Camp Humphreys.

HAD ORDER TO WRECK.

Former German Army Officer is Held at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, April 3.—Lieut. Leonard Ernest Fischer, 33 years old, of Hatton, Pa., formerly an officer in the Tenth Bismarck cavalry and a reputed member of the German imperial intelligence department, is held by Federal authorities here and is believed to be one of the most important German spies caught in this country since the United States entered the war.

A code message found in his possession purporting to be from the German government instructed Lieut. Fischer to destroy the Eddystone powder plant, the Bethlehem steel plant at South Bethlehem, the Du Pont de Nemours plant at Wilmington and a tannery at Westover, Pa. He was arrested in Westover by members of the State police, acting under instructions from Federal secret service agents.

ASKS RETURN OF ALSATIANS.

Germany's Amazing Offer to France Wins Rebuke for Gasparri.

Paris, April 3.—The Germans have made overtures through the Holy See for the return by France of inhabitants of Alsace and Lorraine who have escaped from those regions, offering in exchange an equal number of civilians from the invaded districts of France. Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, transmitted the offer to Baron Denys Cochin, a prominent Catholic leader and recently a member of the cabinet. He refused to act as intermediary in the negotiations on the ground that to do so would be to recognize Alsatians as German subjects.

The baron wrote a sharp letter which brought forth an equally spirited rejoinder from Cardinal Gasparri.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

Large Attendance of Business Men at Meetings Held Last Night to Organize Retail Merchants and Publicity Bureaus.

Enthusiastic meetings of the Retail Merchants' Bureau and the Convention and Publicity Bureau were held last night at the Chamber of Commerce. The meetings were held simply to begin definite organization, but it was difficult to hold the desire for activity back and these bureaus started actual work. The meeting of the Convention and Publicity bureau was especially active, and reports this morning indicated that committees appointed at the meeting last night were already on the job.

The Retail Merchants were first called to order with Robert E. Knight in the chair. The roll call showed that 65 members had already signed up with this bureau. Mr. Knight announced that the by-laws provided that the bureau should be headed by a committee of five, which the chairman should appoint. He asked the meeting to name this committee by an election, but on motion of several of the members, he was directed to name the committee himself.

An outline of the field of work for the bureau was then made. It was shown that there was a big field for trade expansion work if the members of the bureau would work together along lines tried out in many other cities to bring more people into the stores. Examples of where home trade was greatly increased by fostering public sentiment to spend money at home instead of in other cities were given in detail. It was shown that the real growth of Oakland, Cal., began when a great buy-at-home movement was started there. The people of that city had been building up San Francisco at the expense of their home city, and it was impossible for business to grow in Oakland. Property values remained at a standstill. Then came the great Oakland movement with the motto, "Oakland, My City First." The people began to buy at home and soon the stores of that city began to expand and today the retail district of Oakland compares favorably with San Francisco.

One of the activities of this bureau will be to show the people of Alexandria that it pays to buy at home Economy, reciprocity, and civic pride are reasons why every one should support his home city first.

Another activity suggested was automobile excursions in nearby counties to meet the people and suggest to them that they do more trading in Alexandria. This idea will probably be carried out in the near future. Plans to take over the old Retail Merchants' Association were also discussed.

Howard W. Smith, chairman of the Convention and Publicity bureau called that bureau together immediately after the adjournment of the Retail Merchants. He left the appointment of the executive committee of the bureau to the meeting, and M. L. Dinwiddie, J. William May and Paul B. Hulfish were elected. The other two members are Wallace Lindsey and Mr. Smith.

Steps to have moving pictures made of the activity in Alexandria and exhibited in moving picture houses were taken, and that committee is at work today. The matter of conventions was discussed and various ways of advertising Alexandria to bring more labor here, people to build homes and apartment houses and to attract new industries.

Tonight the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' Bureau meets at 8 o'clock sharp, and the Agricultural Bureau at 8:30. These are important meetings and those who have enrolled or desire to enroll in these bureaus are requested to be present.

Important Meeting.

All members of Alva Aerie, No. 871, Fraternal Order of Eagles, are requested to be present at regular meeting to be held in Eagles Hall, 110 S. Royal street, tomorrow (Wednesday) night at 8 o'clock, when an offer to purchase the Eagles building and contents will be considered.

DEADLOCK IN BATTLE

Fourteenth Day of German Offensive Finds Situation Unchanged.

London, April 3.—A deadlock has developed in the battle of Picardy.

As a result of the unbreakable defense of the valiant Anglo-French armies and the exhaustion of the shattered German armies today—the fourteenth of the German offensive—found the battle front virtually unchanged.

From General Foch, the allied generalissimo, down to the humblest private the opinion is deep rooted that any further effort of the Germans to break through the allied front and capture the base city of Amiens will prove disastrous failures.

Considerable rain has fallen at intervals during the past twenty-four hours and when the combat is renewed the opposing armies will have to struggle over a field thick with mud, as was the case in the bloody Flanders battle.

Already German losses have mounted to an appalling total, but it is evident that the Kaiser will not reckon with the life blood of his soldiers if he sees the slightest chance for success. So hard were the Germans driven during the early stages of the offensive that many of their wounded lay for days on the battlefield without attention.

Cavalry and artillery were ruthlessly driven over their bodies, and infantry advances were made at times across ground covered with the dead and wounded that had fallen in earlier results.

GERMAN LOSSES AND FEARS.

Slaughter Frightful, and no Faith Placed in Alsatian Troops.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—Further information regarding the losses suffered by the Germans in their offensive, and on the German attitude toward the Alsatians, as revealed by secret documents seized on prisoners, is given in an official dispatch yesterday from France, as follows:

"On April 1 the Germans withdrew from the front four divisions that had suffered severely. To the depleted divisions mentioned yesterday may be added the following: The 1st, the 119th, whose companies are reduced to 40 men; the 4th, the 6th, the 50th, the 195th and the reserve division of the Guard, which has lost 25 per cent of its men. A regiment of the 12th Division has been reduced to less than 800 men. The 5th and 45th Reserve Divisions were reduced more than half.

"The Alsatian contingents, three-quarters of which had been until now used on the eastern front and are now in France, appear to give great concern to the Germans, according to secret instructions found on prisoners. It is forbidden to use Alsatians and Lorrainers in the first line and in patrol duty. These precautions show conclusively how little trust the Germans have in the inhabitants of the provinces which they claim for their own."

"Sunshine Nan," Tonight.

Diminutive Ann Pennington will be introduced in her latest Paramount photoplay, "Sunshie Nan," at the Richmond Theater tonight as an urchin, just as ready to plunge into a rough-and-tumble fist fight as she is to take tender care of her neighbor's baby.

The story tells of an ambitious little slum girl who rises to become the wife of a successful inventor. There are tremendous obstacles in the way of the transformation however, such as being accused of a crime she never committed, and fighting her way up afterward as an office girl and stenographer; but she turns all this to good account and lends a helping hand to many of her old friends of the "alley."

Notice to Taxpayers.

Due notice is hereby given to all taxpayers who have not listed their personal property and incomes for the year 1918 to do so at as early date as possible, and as the commissioner is making his annual rounds on days favorable for outside work the office will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evenings (Saturday and Sunday excepted) to receive an assess those whose engagements prevent their attending to this matter during the day. ECHOES OF LONG AGO.

"General Order No. 33, issued yesterday, requires commissioners of election to report at once all State and county officers in Virginia whose terms have expired. This evidently means new appointments and will throw open to the hungry Radicals a large number of offices, and they are truly hungering and thirsting after them. There seems to be no doubt that General Wells will be made Governor."

The above was one of the clippings made yesterday by the Richmond Times-Dispatch from its files of fifty years ago, and will recall conditions in Alexandria at that time. During the four years' civil war people not native and to the manner born occupied most of the official positions in this city. A small number who had been candidates before the outbreak of the war were elected to positions they had long coveted, as there was virtually no opposition upon the part of the great mass of Alexandrians. At the first election in 1866 there was a cleaning out of these elements, when the city resumed its normal conditions by selecting officers to suit Alexandrians. This caused great exasperation, some of those relegated to private life alleging that their element had made a city of Alexandria, and that they should have been continued in office. In this connection it may be stated that no one but themselves could see what they had done, although the city had doubled in population, and there should have been marked increases in license taxes, etc. When the city offices were turned over to the successors of this element it was found that the public debt amounting to about twelve hundred thousand dollars, had not been decreased, and the newly-elected officers realized that they faced a herculian task. The suggestion in the clipping printed above was carried out to the letter two years later, and all office-holders who declined to take or could not take the ironclad oath of allegiance to the government were deposed and the party who had been in power during the war—or most of them—found themselves backk by appointment of the military governor.

The following extract will recall to the memory of others now living the contempt with which some members of the constitutional convention were treated at that time:

"J. C. Gibson, in addressing the Constitutional Convention yesterday on a resolution offered by Hunnicutt, took occasion to say: 'Certain parliamentary rules require me to recognize him (Hunnicutt) as the gentleman from Richmond,' but no law, parliamentary or otherwise, can make me recognize him as a gentleman outside this hall.' Hunnicutt made no reply."

ANOTHER HUNNISH VICTORY.

The words in the headline of this article are over a pathetic picture in a cotemporary. It represents French surgeons examining little children from Belgium and northern France who are threatened with tuberculosis from malnutrition, exposure and other trials through which they have passed during the past three years and a half, having been torn from their parents by the Hun invaders and cast adrift. The Germans do not want to feed them and have sent them within the allies' lines.

Four years ago these little ones ran to lisp their sires' return, unmindful of the fact that war would soon disturb their innocent prattle. Fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters have been ruthlessly murdered, or compelled by their captors to work for their armies, while members of the family of tender years have been cast out of the homes of their birth because the invaders would be forced to make some pretense of feeding them.

At Evian, in France, near the Swiss border, there is no more pathetic sight than the daily procession of child wrecks from Belgium and northern France that the Germans have sent out of the country they hold. The little ones, of no possible use to the Huns, too small to work and only representing mouths that they must make a pretense of feeding, are sent to France with their diseases upon them—principally tuberculosis.

There is German craft in sending the children back. Not only will France have to feed them, but there is always the chance that the little ones will spread disease in a country that is already overburdened with war tasks and war losses.

That's why the scene shown in the picture is so important. Each of these little ones has a card in hand, which gives all the known history of the child. All are carefully examined as to health before final disposition is made of them.

If the children are simply underfed and undernourished, they are sent to the south of France, where homes are arranged for them. If they are tubercular, they are sent to special institutions for care.

The effort of the French and Belgian governments is to save as much of this human wreckage as possible. The American Red Cross is helping. The children in this particular picture are Belgians from the District bordering on the River Yser, where their fathers have for so long made so gallant a resistance to the invader.

PASSING OF OLD LANDMARK.

Several hundred of the younger colored residents of Alexandria celebrated Easter Monday on Battery Rodgers Hill, overlooking the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Company, which is employing hundreds of men in the construction of buildings on the reclaimed ground of what had for more than a century been known as Baptizing Cove. This was probably the last gathering of egg-rollers upon this old hill, many years ago one of the most popular resorts in summer in Alexandria, and where most of the egg-rolling was indulged in in bygone days. On this eminence cannon were fired on the twenty-second of February and Fourth of July, and courting couples gathered and indulged in love's young dreams while gazing out into the Potomac. Locust trees flourished on the hill at that time, imparting shade, while lofty zephyrs fanned the loungers.

Baptizing Hill, as it was then called, was Alexandria's park. The water from the pump at this place was regarded as the best in the city, and on Sunday evenings in summer people came from other sections of the old town, bringing glasses or cups with them for the purpose of drinking water from that well. This was known as the "White Pump." The old log pump was long since removed, and a smaller one took its place. This is now almost obliterated and no attempt is made to use the water.

The Virginia Shipbuilding Company is about to acquire Baptizing Hill, and by this time next year it will doubtless have been eliminated and the earth used in filling up places nearby. This company now has a steam shovel at work tearing out the east end, where a road is being constructed, and ere long the hill proper will be attacked.

During the civil war the military virtually ruined the hill by depressing the surface in some places and elevating it in others in order to place a fort there. This was known as Battery Rodgers. The trees were, of course, removed. In the meantime the cove began to grow waukapins as the water became shallow, and it had virtually settled down into a swamp when government contractors reclaimed it seven years ago while they were deepening the channel of the Potomac in front of Alexandria.

PAYING THE COST.

Dispatches continue to come from Holland telling the story of endless trains of wounded Germans being borne to the rear, being deposited in cities, towns and villages, crowding the limited facilities of these communities and casting a cloud of horror over them all. These long lines of suffering men, and there must be tens of thousands of them, have depressed the German people as has nothing else since the war began. They are depressed because they know that a "victory" achieved at such a price must turn to ashes.

This causes the world to wonder how long the German people can remain loyal to a government that drives them to death with such utter ruthlessness, observes the Richmond Times-Dispatch. How long could any civilized people tolerate an autocracy that places so small a value upon the lives and fortunes of the men and women and children over which it rules? If Germany were fighting for its life as a nation, the sacrifices which her people are making might be expected, but she is not fighting for her life. She is fighting for more power for more lands, for the subjugation of other nations, for domination of Europe, and, through Europe, for the domination of the world.

It remains to be seen what sort of a reckoning these people will demand if this present great offensive fails, as fail it must. It remains to be seen what feelings will possess the millions of German women and children when they find that hundreds of thousands of their husbands and fathers have been killed or maimed for life in a campaign that accomplished nothing. It remains to be seen whether or not the German government can hold their faith when it is forced to confess failure in the present campaign and possible failure in the campaigns to come.

THE STRIKE MENACE.

One thing ought to be made a supreme article of the national creed and of the national practice during the remainder of the war, and that is that a man who holds up war work by a strike is as bad as the man who tears down the flag or destroys a munition factory. As the Baltimore Sun says, no truly loyal American will attempt to paralyze his government by a strike any more than he will insult the flag or shoot at its defenders. Persons employed in shipyards and war factories who interrupt work by strikes are nothing more nor less than enemies of their country. While Americans are dying in France to protect the United States highly paid laborers at Norfolk strike for increased wages ad virtually co-operate with Hindenburg and the kaiser.

Demonstrations of practical disloyalty, must bring the red-hot blood of indignation to the cheek of every patriotic American workingman. The thing has become intolerable, and loyal union workers should make the men who are bringing reproach upon them, and who are striking at the country, feel the weight of their righteous wrath. Men in the army who should strike against service would be shot. Some of them have been imprisoned for long terms of years for offenses far less injurious to the country than these repeated interruptions of our vital war work.

Let us make it the national slogan that the man who strikes against government war work is a traitor. He is trying to haul down the American flag, and the man who does that deserves a Prussian's fate.

CYLINDER EXPLODES.

One Man Is Killed Outright and Fourteen Others are Badly Injured.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 3. — One man is known to have been killed and fourteen others were injured when an oil cylinder exploded in the plant of the Flannery Bolt Company at Bridgeville, near here, yesterday. The injured were brought here on a special train. Reports from the plant were to the effect that five men had been killed outright, but officers of the company said they had received no statement from the men sent to investigate the cause and extent of the accident.

The dollar was sent on its way of doing good by being put in the collection plate of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

Young Man of Pulaski Shot One Night Last Week.

Pulaski, Va., April 3.—George Brawley, a white boy about twenty-one years old, was shot and and killed one night last week by Hobart Worrell, a young white man, at a point in what is known as the Ridge road, a short distance west of the town limits.

It seems that young Brawley in company with another boy and two girls, were walking along the road on their way home from a trip to town. Just in front of them two white boys were also travelling in the same direction, and these boys began throwing stones at a stable belonging to the residence where Frank White lives and where Hobart Worrell was staying at the time. Just as Brawley and his party got close to the stable which is located right by the public road, and while the other two boys were still rocking the stable, Hobart Worrell came out upon the porch of the White residence and began firing toward the stable. He shot five times, and one of the bullets struck young Brawley in the head. The boy with him hurried back to town and informed Sergeant J. L. Carper, who in company with Deputy Sheriff L. L. Roberts and Dr. R. H. Woolling went at once to the scene. Young Brawley was hurried to the hospital, but he was beyond human aid. He died later. Worrell was arrested and is now in jail.

TRIES TO KILL TWO.

One Bullet Wounds Wife on Scalp—While Others Miss His Daughter.

Martinsburg, W. Va., April 3.—Following the failure of what is believed by the police to have been a deliberately planned attempt to kill his wife and daughter at the home of the latter in this county late Saturday evening, Martin G. Pitzer, 60 years of age, of this city, went to a clump of bushes in a nearby field and after hacking his throat with a pocket knife, shot himself through the head with a revolver. He was dead when found by the officers, who had been summoned after his attack upon the women.

Pitzer, who is said to have been drinking during the day, went three times to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Floyd Van Metre, near Arden, to see his wife, who had been staying with her daughter. The police say that before he went to the Van Metre farm the third time he made threats indicating his murderous intention. Shortly after his arrival at the Van Metre home the third time he suddenly pulled a revolver from his pocket and opened fire upon his wife and daughter. One bullet went through Mrs. Pitzer's left ear and inflicted only a scalp wound. The bullets fired at Mrs. Van Metre missed their mark. The women fled from the house and escaped. Pitzer then disappeared, and a couple of hours later was found dead in a field on the Van Metre farm.

Six former ring champion have died within the past year. They are Les Darcy, Bob Fitzsimmons, John L. Sullivan, Mike Donovan, Terry McGovern and Charlie Mitchell.

MONT BLANC RESPONSIBLE.

Judgement Against Owners of Ship Causing Halifax Disaster for $2,000,000.

Halifax, N. S., April 3.—The trial of the action and counterclaim in the Admiralty Court between the owners of the steamers Mont Blanc and the owners of the Imo, each claiming $2,000,000 against the other, was completed Monday. Without leaving the bench, Justice Drysdale gave his decision that the Mont Blanc was to blame for the explosion here last winter, and said he would file a memorandum accordingly. The damages will be assessed in the regular way against the owners of the Mont Blanc.

2,000 MADE ILL AT FACTORY.

Germs of Malady Seem to Float in Air, Says Ford's Secretary.

Detroit, Mich., April 2.—Officials of the Ford Motor Company yesterday afternoon confirmed a report that more than 200 men have been affected daily by a mysterious epidemic resembling grip which has been prevalent in the plant. It was estimated that about 2,000 employes have been ill thus far. The company has been doing a large amount of government work.

Ernest G. Liebold, private secretary to Henry Ford, today said:

"Scores of men in the offices have been ill while an average of 200 factory workers a day have been laying off for the past ten days. At first we thought the water might be contaminated, but an analysis showed this theory to be wrong. The germs evidently are floating through the air."

MOVED TO AVOID DRAFT.

Virginia Negro Confesses He Is a Slacker.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—"Ah's jes' ben movin' erbout to keep outen de draf'," explained Daniel Young, lately from Virginia, when quizzed closely at Camden police headquarters, yesterday. Daniel had been espied by Policeman Steelman at the Pennsylvania ferries. He labored under the weight of two huge suit cases and did not care to enlighten the copper upon his plans or destination.

At the city hall after the suit case were found to contain clothing enough to keep the young man going for some years, Young finally confessed that he was a draft slacker, 25 years old. His case was referred to the Federal authorities and he is held in the city jail.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

"Fortune-Teller" Believed to Have Been Seeking Information as to Troop Movements.

Charlotte, N. C., April 3.—St. Claire Bishop, charged with violation of the espionage act was remanded to jail yesterday in default of $5,000 bond to await trial in the Federal District Court, following a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner J. W. Cobb. Bishop was arrested several days ago on a Federal warrant, following investigations by agents of the Department of Justice.

Bishop, when arrested, was posing as a fortune-teller, and Federal officers believe that his plan of gaining information was through wives of officers and men at Camp Greene while "reading" their hands and "telling" their fortunes. He claims to be a discharged French soldier.

GERMAN FAILURE.

Invaders Unable to Break Through to Amiens.

London, April 3. — The thirteenth day of the great Picardy battle confirmed the failure of the German attempt to break through to Amiens and saw the allies fully in control of the situation, both on the two flanks and in front of the spearhead of the German wedge menacing the great allied base.

Both the French and the British renewed their counter attacks, pushed the Germans back between the Somme and the shell-swept village of Demuin, retained Hangard-en-Santerre, the storm center in the last two days' fighting, and took prisoners and even machine guns in various sectors.

For the moment the Germans have been thrown definitely upon the defensive. However, there is feverish activity behind the invaders line; immense fresh forces are being brought up and heavy artillery is beginning to make its presence felt. A new terrific piercing attempt in the center, in and beyond the angle of the Ancre and Luce, is expected momentarily.

END STRIKE AT NORFOLK.

Men Go Back While Government Considers Wage Demands.

Norfolk, Va., April 3.—Following an executive meeting that lasted until nearly midnight, leaders of the striking carpenters at the government bases of the Hampton Roads district and navy yard, announced that the men had been ordered to return to work at once pending the rendering of a decision by the War and Navy departments on their demands for an increase in the hourly pay of the various craft.

Over 900 barge masters and mates in Hampton Roads ports yesterday went on a strike to enforce a recent demand for an increase in pay from $70 to $80, the present scale, to $150 per month. Considerably over one-half of the barges were idle throughout the day, hampering shipping where barging operations are necessary. Leaders of the strikers declare that all other barges will be tied up by Thursday unless transportation and shipping companies grant their demand. Compromise proposals made were rejected.

TARRED AND DUCKED.

Pro-German Butcher and Physician Objects of Mobs' Resentment.

Jackson, Mich., April 3. — Chris Gwinner, a local butcher, was taken from his home here last night by 12 masked men, driven in an automobile to a point three miles south of the city, and given a coating of tar and feathers. In taking Gwinner from his home the men accused him of pro-Germanism, charging particularly that he had made disloyal utterances in referring to the Tuscania disaster.

La Salle, Ill., April 3.—Pro-Germanism was silenced here Monday night when 400 citizens ducked Dr. J. C. Bienneman, a physician, in a canal and ordered him out of town. Bienneman, after his involuntary cleansing, was made the center of a battery of automobile headlights in the downtown section, and forced to kneel and kiss the flag. The crowd then daubed the stores of Regas Bros. and Henry Mueller with yellow paint. The proprietors of the former, a confectionery store, agreed to close up. Mueller, who is a watchmaker, was warned to "watch his tongue."

NO STRIKES IN NEW YORK.

Seventy Thousand Water-Front Men Will Remain at Their Posts.

New York, April 2.—The threatened strike of some 70,000 water-front workmen will not take place, according to T. V. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen's Union today.

"There will be no strike of the men affiliated with the shipping industries of the port," declared O'Connor. "Former Governor Bass, of New Hampshire, chairman of the National Adjustment Committee of the United States Shipping Board, in whose hands the matter rests, will straighten out their grievances.

"What the men want is the observance of the wage and hour proposition which was fixed by the Board of Arbitration last year. The majority of the boat owners have adhered to the rates fixed at that time, and the minority which have not will be pulled into line.

"There will be no strike as was ordered at midnight Monday."

SIX KILLED IN EXPLOSION.

Woman War Worker Among Those Fatally Burned by Blazing Oil.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 3.—Six workmen, one of them a woman machinist's helper, are dead; seven others are in Pittsburgh hospitals, suffering from severe injuries and nearly a score of workmen are more or less injured as a result of an explosion yesterday in the machine shop of the Flannery Belt Company's plant at Bridgeville, a suburb. Ignition of several hundred gallons of oil in a huge cylinder, 14 feet long and 12 feet in diameter, was responsible for the explosion, which showered burning oil on all the employes of the machine shop.

Jeannette Barnwell, aged 19, one of the victims of the explosion, was the first of several thousand women who have taken up work in plants in the Pittsburgh district to meet death in an industrial accident. The Flannery plant is working on government contracts.

DESERTERS TURN BANDITS.

Hold Up North Carolina Bank—One Dying in Hospital and Two are in Jail.

Williamston, N. C., April 3.—Noah Robertson, a deserter from the United States army; Church Roberson and Clyde Bowen, all young men of Martin county, were captured by a posse yesterday afternoon after they had held up the cashier of the Bank of Everetts, at Everetts, near here.

In resisting capture, Church Roberson was perhaps fatally wounded. The other two were placed in jail.

The robbers got $3,000 in cash and $4,000 in bonds, only part of which was recovered. They were masked when they entered the bank and covered the cashier, V. G. Taylor, with revolvers.

Noah Roberson deserted from Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., last November ,and it is said has been living in the swamp in this section ever since to escape arrest.

GERMAN BIRTH HIS UNDOING.

One Republican Candidate of Alien Blood Carries Whole Ticket Down to Defeat.

Hartford, Conn., April 3—The clean-cut issue of Americanism triumphed here yesterday, when John A. Gleason, a Democrat, and a member of the staff of the Hartford Times, won the contest for town and city clerk by a plurality of 3,382.

The defeated man was Henry F. Smith, who was born in Germany. He had been a Republican office-holder here for more than twenty years.

Smith proved a destructive weight for the Republicans, those going down to defeat with him being Mayor Frank A. Hagerty, who lost to Richard J. Kinsella, Democrat, by a vote of 6,545 to 6,090.

NEW DRAFT ARMY.

Indications Point to Necessity of America Raising Greater Forces for Support of Allied Armies.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The executive machinery by which the United States army must be immediately increased to meet the demand for men on the battle fronts of Europe was placed in motion yesterday.

At the suggestion of the White House, the Military Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives agreed to urge at once the adoption of the resolution which would ratify the re-classification of 9,000,000 draft registrants.

Other steps are to be taken that will give priority to all pending legislation regarded as vital to the efficient conduct of the war.

The arrangements of draft registrants, not already called to the colors, into five classes, according to eligibility for military service, was completed by Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, provost marshal, many weeks ago.

The plan was evolved to eliminate the human lottery system under which the first selective draft army was called. It places in Class I all unmarried men without dependents as subject to the first call in the order of the numbers on the registration cards.

Class 2 includes registrants next in eligibility. Classes 3, 4 and 5 are graded in the same manner.

Before this system can be placed in operation it must be approved by Congress. The joint resolution intended to give the necessary power was introduced on March 2, and referred to the Military Affairs Committee where it has since remained.

LEAVES FOR BALTIMORE.

English Primate Closes Visit Here by Laying Wreath and Praying at Senate.

After a series of religious and social activities such as have been seldom known in Washington, the Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of York, will leave Washington today for Baltimore, thence to Pittsburgh and from there to Canada.

Accompanied by Earl Reading, the British Ambassador, and a party, the Archbishop yesterday afternoon went to Mount Vernon where he laid a wreath on the tomb of Washington with impressive ceremonies. The English primate seemed affected deeply by the solemnity of the occasion, and expressed considerable pride in being able to pay this tribute to the Father of the United States.

At noon yesterday the Archbishop delivered a fervent prayer at the opening of the session of the Senate, later holding a reception in the rear of the chamber at which he was introduced to all the Senators by Senator Saulsbury, president pro tempore of the Senate.

SHOT DEAD BY WOMAN.

Tried to Force His Way Upstairs In Her Home, She Tells Police.

Piedmont, W. Va., April 3.—James Areno, aged 40, unmarried, was shot to death by Mrs. Theresa Cannette, at her home in Piedmont, yesterday. Death was instantaneous. Three shots entered the side, back and arm. It is stated Mrs. Cannette had warned Areno to keep away or she would shoot him.

Areno, it is said, went to the Cannette home after Cannette had gone to work and is alleged to have attempted to force his way upstairs. Mrs. Cannette gave herself up and was committed to jail at Keyser in default of $5,000 bail.

GLASS IN BREAD CUTS THROAT.

All German Bakers Ordered Discharged In Brooklyn.

Brooklyn bakeries have been ordered by the Federal food board to discharge all Germans in their employ. This action was taken following many complaints of glass being found in bread and flour. One large bread company later reported it had discharged two German employes.

In the hands of Superintendent De Woody, of the Department of Justice, is a loaf of bread minus two or three slices, a woman in the Kings Highway section of Brooklyn gave a slice to her daughter when the child came in hungry from play last Saturday and demanded something to eat. Bread in hand, the child went back to play. Before she had finished eating her throat began to bleed.

A physician was called and as a result of his examination the uneaten portion of the loaf was turned over to the police. The physician reported that he had found a bit of glass in the girl's throat and many fragments in the contents of her stomach.

Federal officials, who confirmed the story of the girl's experience, explained that the pieces of glass were plainly visible in the bread. However, they were just small enough to escape casual inspection. The board urged housewives to examine carefully bread purchased in stores and to sift flour thoroughly when they baked at home.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Acroplane Trips Strongly Recommended by British Amy Sergeons.

British surgeons attached to the British air service believe that the time is not far distant when tuberculosis patients wil lbe cured by a course of treatment which will include daily trips to great heights in an aeroplane. It has been found that a visit to rarefied air regions on sunny days has been of great benefit to persons suffering the first stages of pulmonary diseases.

One of the British physicians who has been devoting much time to determining the effects of flying upon the men in the British air service said, "As the air at high altitudes is absolutely free of germs, a consumptive cannot reinfect himself by breathing it and the diminished pressure of the atmosphere is of further assistance, since at ground level the lungs are never throughly emptied of air and the 'dead' air left i ntheir recesses is a factor in preventing cures.

"It is possible that freedom from germs, lowered atmospheric pressure, and the complete sunbath obtainable at heights may lead to the creation of aerial hospitals for specially selected early cases of consumption. I look forward confidently to the establishment of such hospitals in almost all of our cities."

AUTO BANDIT GETS $9,000.

Forces Clerks of Cincinnati Suburban Bank Into Vault.

Cincinnati, April 3.—An armed bandit entered the First National Bank of Madisonville, a northern suburb of this city, shortly after the noon hour yesterday, forced two clerks into the vault, took $9,000 in bills from the cashier's cage and made his escape in a high-powered automobile. The robber failed to lock the vault and the clerks immediately got out. They rushed to the door in time to see the bandit's machine disappearing down the street at great speed, and he was far out of the suburb before any pursuit could be organized.

THESE DUTCH SHIPS EXEMPT.

Government Not to Take Such as Were On the Way.

Washington, April 3.—The American government has decided that Dutch ships en route to the United States from Holland at the time Dutch shipping in American ports was requisitioned will not be taken over on arrival here. The War Trade Board announced last night that as the requisitioning had been done, according to President Wilson's proclamation, to restore the ships laid up in American harbors to their normal activity, it was not intended to take those which were in service from Holland when the proclamation was issued.

The amount of tonnage to be turned over to the United States by Japan under the arrangement made by the Japanese shipping commission is estimated by the press at about 250,000. Of this 150,000 tons will be provided by the government and the remainder by shipbuilders in exchange for American steel. An official announcement will be made soon.

Approximately 30 ships of 5,000 tons each will be obtained from the Japanese government. The deal involves no change in ownership, but gives the United States the use of the tonnage during the war at specified rates. The United States already has obtained 100,000 tons of shipping from Japanese builders by purchase in which the exchange of steel plates for ships played an important part. Still other ships probably will be built for the United States in Japanese yards as a joint war measure in the fight against Germany.

GRACE FOR DELINQUENTS.

May Show Cause Why Schedules Were Held Back.

Washington, April 7.—Persons who failed to make income or excess profits tax returns by last Monday night, the final time for receiving the reports, will not necessarily have to pay the penalty provided by law.

"Collectors have been directed," Revenue Commissioner Roper announced today, "to permit delinquent taxpayers to submit, with late returns, if filed immediately, statements showing causes of delinquency. These statements will be kiven full consideration in the determination of penalties and amcunt o ftaxes to be assessed."

The penalty for late returns is a fine of between $20 and $1,000, the amount to be determined by the Revenue Commissioner. In practice, however, penalties ordinarily have been omitted.

About 7,000,000 income returns are believed to have been filed with revenue collectors up to last midnight. The number was so great that officials in collectors' offices could not begin to tabulate them or estimate the income reported.

BLACKMAILER FREE.

Mrs. Hirsch's Sentence Cut Down to $300 And Paid.

Atlanta, Ga., April 3. — Superior Judge Hill reduced to a fine of $300 the sentence of one year in prison and fine of $1,000 imposed on Mrs. Margaret Hirsch, convicted with J. W. Cook of attempting to blackmail Mayor Chandler for $500,000. Henry H. Hirsch immediately paid his wife's fine and she was released from custody.

Judge Hill, in commuting the original sentence, declared that he was actuated by the fact that Mrs. Hirsch's health was impaired by her long confinement and her reputation and character ruined, while her husband has been greatly humiliated through innocent association with the case.

Cook was sentenced to a year and a day on the chain gang and fined $1,000. He is at liberty on bail pending a hearing on his motion for a new trial.

A NERVOUS WRECK

From Three Years' Suffering. Says Cardui Made Her Well.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work.

I just wanted to sleep all the time, for that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent, for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui. . .

Nothing relieved me until I took Cardui. It did wonders for me."

Try Cardui for your troubles—made from medicinal ingredients recommended in medical books as being of benefit in female troubles, and 40 years of use has proven that the books are right. Begin taking Cardui today. NC-134
